GANG OPS X HATE GROUPS

WHITE SUPREMACY / HATE GROUPS

White Supremacist groups emerged early-on in the history of United States. They usually operated clandestinely, in an attempt to avoid the attention of law enforcement and the media.

Historically, these groups relied primarily on word-of-mouth notoriety to intimidate their intended targets. Their numbers were sporadic until recently.

Now there is unprecedented growth in the number of and membership in, white supremacist groups.

In the 1960's, the Ku Klux Klan was the most infamous hate groups with an estimated 40,000 members in 1965. But by the end of the 1970's, the majority of white supremacists belonged to organizations other than the Klan. They had evolved from loosely structured fraternal organizations into highly developed paramilitary groups with extensive survivalist training camps often funded by proceeds from counterfeit money and bank and armored car robberies.

In the 1990's, they transformed themselves from a violent vanguard into a sophisticated political movement with a significant constituency.

In 1979, founder Richard Butler convened the first Aryan Nations World Congress on his property and attracted Klan and neo-Nazi leaders from the US, Canada and Europe, who gathered to exchange ideas and strategies.

WHITE SUPRMACY PHILOSOPHY

White Supremacy is an ideology that believes the United States government is controlled by a conspiratorial cabal of non-whites or Jews or a combination of both. They advocate changing this "Zionist Occupation Government (ZOG)" through terror or violence, but also are becoming more politically active in order to influence the mainstream politics. They tell their followers that crime and welfare abuse by African Americans, immigration by Mexicans and Asians, or a fictional Jewish conspiracy are responsible for a decline in the status of white people. They accuse civil rights organizations of "hating white people" and brand whites who do not support them as race traitors or self-haters.

Although the Ku Klux Klan is the most notorious, hate groups come in many forms. For example, they organize as religious cults, most predominantly the Christian Identity model which asserts that (1) white people are the original Lost Tribes of Israel; (2) Jews are descendants of Satan; and (3) African Americans and other people of color are pre-Adamic, or beasts created by God before He created Adam, the first white man. Christian Identity followers feel they can attack and murder Jews and people of color without contradicting their religious convictions because they have been told by their leaders that people of color and Jews have no souls.

Another significant religious cult is the Church of the Creator, founded in 1973. Its members believe they are engaged in a racial holy war (RAHOWA) between the "pure" Aryan race and the "mud races." Adherents are frequently in the headlines for their violence. In 1993, members were arrested by the FBI as part of the Fourth Reich Skinheads who attempted to bomb a church in Los Angeles and assassinate LA's Rodney King. Members have also been arrested in numerous murders, violent assaults, and bank robberies across the nation. They believe that they can precipitate the race war by provoking a violent response with attacks upon Jews and people of color.

Most white supremacists in America believe that the United States is a "Christian" nation, with a special relationship between religion and the rule of law. Because racists give themselves divine permission from God to hate, they often don't see that their actions are driven by hate; they claim to "just love God and the white race." If they are religious, they distort Biblical passages to justify their bigotry.

Each group is working to create a society totally dominated by whites by excluding and denying the rights of non-whites and Jews. The movement's links are global.

NEO-NAZIS

Neo-Nazis are among the most devoted and hardcore of white supremacists, and also traditionally among the most violent. Neo-Nazi ideology today is dominated by the concept of the so-called "Fourteen Words" slogan ("we must secure the existence of our race and a future for white children"), and has evolved into a desperate and dangerous ideology predicated on the notion that the white race is being threatened with extinction by a "rising tide of color," controlled and manipulated by Jews.

PROMINENT HATE GROUPS (past and present)

American Nazi Party

The American Nazi Party (ANP) was an American political party founded by George Lincoln Rockwell. Headquartered in Arlington, Virginia, Rockwell initially called it the World Union of Free Enterprise National Socialists (WUFENS), but later renamed it the American Nazi Party in 1960 to attract maximum media attention.[1] The party was based largely upon the ideals and policies of Adolf Hitler's NSDAP in Germany during the Third Reich. It also espoused Holocaust denial.

The WUFENS headquarters was first located in a residence on Williamsburg Boulevard in Arlington, but was later moved as the ANP headquarters to a house at 928 North Randolph Street (now a hotel and office building site). Rockwell and some party members also established a "Stormtrooper Barracks" in an old mansion owned by the widow of Willis Kern [3] in the Dominion Hills section of Arlington at what is now the Upton Hill Regional Park, the tallest hill in the county. After Rockwell's death, the headquarters was moved again to one side of a duplex brick and concrete storefront at 2507 North Franklin Road which featured a swastika prominently mounted above the front door. This site was visible from busy Wilson Boulevard. Today the Franklin Road address is often misidentified as Rockwell's headquarters when in fact it was the successor organization's last physical address in Arlington (now a coffeehouse).

Aryan Brotherhood

The Aryan Brotherhood, also known as the Brand, or the AB, is a white supremacist prison gang and organized crime syndicate in the United States with about 10,000 members in and out of prison. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the gang makes up less than 0.1% of the prison population, but it is responsible for up to 30% of murders in the federal prison system. The AB has focused on the economic activities typical of organized crime entities; particularly drug trafficking, extortion, inmate prostitution, and murder-for-hire.

Organization at lower levels varies from prison to prison. For example, in the Arizona prison system, members are known as "kindred" and organize into "families". A "council" controls the families. Kindred may recruit other members, known as "progeny", and serve as a mentor for the new recruits. The group has an alliance with La Eme (the Mexican Mafia) as the two are mutual enemies of Black Guerrilla Family.

Like most prison gangs, Aryan Brotherhood members mark themselves with distinctive tattoos. Their tattoo designs commonly include the words, "Aryan Brotherhood", "AB", "666", Nazi symbolism such as SS, sig runes, and swastikas, as well as shamrocks and Celtic iconography.

Aryan Nations

Aryan Nations, also known as the Church of Jesus Christ Christian, was once the United States' most infamous neo-Nazi group, although it fell on hard times after the illness and death of its founder, Richard Butler, in 2004. Even before Butler died, Aryan Nations experienced factional fighting and splits due to dissatisfaction with his leadership.

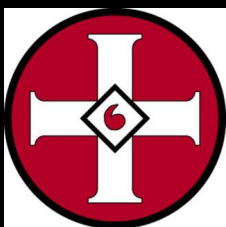

In the years since Butler's death, a handful of different Aryan Nations factions have fought each other to claim his legacy, with some factions falling apart only to be replaced by a new squabbling faction. Some emphasize Butler's neo-Nazi ideology while others have focused more on his adherence to the racist and anti-Semitic religious sect called Christian Identity. In recent years, Florida has seen activity from two factions.

The Aryan Nations faction led by long-time member August Kreis has had ties to Florida dating back to 2003-2005, when Kreis lived in Sebring. Kreis, currently living in Fulton, Tennessee, is a follower of Christian Identity and serves as "High Counsel" for his Aryan Nations faction.

Ku Klux Klan

The Ku Klux Klan (KKK), or simply "the Klan", is the name of three distinct past and present movements in the United States, which have advocated extremist reactionary currents such as white supremacy, white nationalism, and anti-immigration, historically expressed through terrorism. The first organization sought to overthrow the Republican state governments in the South during the Reconstruction Era, especially by violence against African American leaders. It ended about 1871. The second was a very large nationwide organization in the 1920's that especially opposed Catholics. The current manifestation consists of numerous small unconnected groups that use the KKK name.

All three movements have called for purification of American society, and all are considered part of right-wing extremism.

Founded in 1866, the Ku Klux Klan (KKK) extended into almost every southern state by 1870 and became a vehicle for white southern resistance to the Republican Party's Reconstruction-era policies aimed at establishing political and economic equality for blacks. Its members waged an underground campaign of intimidation and violence directed at white and black Republican leaders. Though Congress passed legislation designed to curb Klan terrorism, the organization saw its primary goal—the reestablishment of white supremacy—fulfilled through Democratic victories in state legislatures across the South in the 1870's. After a period of decline, white Protestant natives groups revived the Klan in the early 20th century, burning crosses and staging rallies, parades and marches denouncing immigrants, Catholics, Jews, blacks and organized labor. The civil rights movement of the 1960's also saw a surge of Ku Klux Klan activity, including bombings of black schools and churches and violence against black and white activists in the South.

National Alliance

The National Alliance is a white nationalist, anti-semitic and white separatist political organization. It was founded by university physics professor Dr. William Luther Pierce in 1974, and was based in Hillsboro, West Virginia. The group ceased operations, as a "membership organization," in 2013.

Pierce founded the group in 1974 at about the same time he created the pantheistic Cosmo theist Community Church. He was a former physics professor and the author of The Turner Diaries and Hunter, both novels about a white revolution in America, which he wrote under the pen name Andrew MacDonald.

The National Alliance was reorganized from an earlier group: the National Youth Alliance (NYA) which in turn was formed out of the remains of an organization called Youth for Wallace, which supported Governor George Wallace's 1968 presidential campaign. The NYA broke into factions as a result of infighting, and Pierce gained control of the largest remnant in 1970 and continued to lead the organization under that name until its reorganization in 1974. Pierce previously had been an associate of the assassinated leader of the American Nazi Party, George Lincoln Rockwell, and had been editor of the party's magazine, National Socialist World.

Pierce died of cancer on July 23, 2002. The Board of Directors appointed Erich Griebel to succeed William Pierce as Chairman of the organization. Power struggles within the organization began almost immediately.

Nationalist Socialist Movement

The Detroit-headquartered National Socialist Movement (NSM) is a neo-Nazi group of long standing, created by remnants of the American Nazi Party in 1974. For decades, it operated in the shadows of more prominent neo-Nazi groups such as Aryan Nations and the National Alliance.

However, due primarily to setbacks experienced by other major neo-Nazi groups in the early to mid-2000's, the NSM, though having fewer than 400 members nationwide, is currently the largest neo-Nazi group in the country.

Led by Jeff Schoep, the NSM uses contact points throughout the United States to lead small pockets of localized and publicity-seeking activities. Typical activities include distributing ideological leaflets and holding public rallies where anti-immigration sentiments are often expressed. Other publicity-seeking tactics include trying to join local community projects such as disaster relief and highway cleanups.

Another strategy by the NSM has been to use the Internet in new ways to help spread its virulently anti-Semitic and racist message. In spring 2007, the NSM purchased a white supremacist social networking Web site called "New Saxon." The Web site was originally developed as "an online community for whites by whites" by Florida-based white supremacist Todd Findley. However, in March 2007, Findley was arrested and convicted of three counts of grand theft after organizing a scheme to defraud investors in a "whites only" housing development project that never materialized. He claims to have sold New Saxon to NSM in order to raise money for his defense. New Saxon has quickly become popular among white supremacists frustrated by the restrictions on hate speech at most mainstream social networking sites.

National Socialist Party of America

The National Socialist Party of America was a Chicago-based organization founded in 1970 by Frank Collin shortly after he left the National Socialist White People's Party. The NSWPP had been the American Nazi Party until shortly after the assassination of leader George Lincoln Rockwell in 1967. Collin, a follower of Rockwell, developed differences with his successor Matt Koehl.

The party's headquarters were in Chicago's Marquette Park, and its main activity in the early 1970s was organizing loud demonstrations against blacks moving into previously all-white neighborhoods.

Public Enemy Number One

Public Enemy No. 1 (abbreviated as PEN1) is a white supremacist street gang based in Southern California, United States. The California Department of Justice in 2004 described it as "one of the most powerful and fastest-growing gangs inside and outside prison" and said it had about 200 members statewide.

Its main activities include identity theft, credit card fraud and methamphetamine sales.

The gang started as "Peni Death Squad" (PDS), a punk gang in the 1980's, the name being derived from the anarcho-punk/deathrock band, 'Rudimentary Peni'. Originally, PDS was mainly a loose-knit group of suburban teens, runaways and homeless youngsters. Other examples of Southern California hardcore punk gangs included La Mirada punks, Vicious Circle, The HB's, FFF (Fight For Freedom), The West Side Suicidals, L.A. Death Squad (L.A.D.S.), Circle One, and Bakersfield's Zero-Core. These groups were typically made up of suburban counter-culture teenagers, skaters, surfers, etc.

The formation of the group was greatly influenced by members in the hardcore punk rock scene in Long Beach, California during the 1980's. However, by the 1990's, PEN1's base of operations had partially been relocated to Orange County where they began recruiting suburban adolescents. By the 2000's, the gang's influence has spread throughout California and Arizona, with some members in Idaho and Nevada. They have ties to the prison gangs Aryan Brotherhood and Nazi Lowriders. Their main rivals are the Bloods, Crips, the Norteños, Nuestra Familia, Black Guerilla Family.

White Aryan Resistance

White Aryan Resistance (WAR) is a neo-Nazi white separatist organization in the United States founded and led by former Ku Klux Klan Grand Wizard Tom Metzger. Part of the American nationalist movement; WAR uses the slogan White Revolution is the Only Solution.

Metzger's first group was known as the White Brotherhood, which he led in the mid-1970's until joining David Duke's Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in 1975. By 1979 he had risen to Grand Dragon of the California realm. During these years the California realm conducted unauthorized border patrols at the Mexican border and kept a black shirted security detail that would engage in skirmishes with anti-Klan demonstrators and police. One incident in Oceanside, California, in the spring of 1980, involved 30 members of this squad and left seven people injured.

In the summer of 1980 Metzger left the national organization and founded his own California Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The group continued to harass Hispanics and Vietnamese refugees.

From 1980 to late 1982, Metzger headed the California Knights, while also pursuing various electoral offices. In 1982 he left the Klan to found a new group, the White American Political Association, a group dedicated to promoting "pro white" candidates for office. After losing the 1982 California Senate Democratic primary, Metzger abandoned the electoral route and reorganized WAPA as White American Resistance in 1983 and then to White Aryan Resistance, to reflect a more "revolutionary" stance.

World Church of the Creator

The Creativity Movement was one of the most notorious hate groups in the 1990's, gaining publicity for its rapid growth and the violent incidents with which it was associated. Originally founded by Ben Klassen in 1973 as

Church of the Creator, the organization fell into disarray in the mid-1990's following the criminal convictions of several of its members, the suicide of Klassen in 1993 and a successful lawsuit brought by the family of a Gulf War veteran murdered in 1991 by a COTC member.

In 1996, COTC was reborn as WCOTC with the emergence of the young law school graduate Matt Hale as its leader. Hale's publicity skills, his unsuccessful battle to obtain his law license in Illinois, and a two-state shooting spree by follower Benjamin Smith in July 1999 that left two dead and nine wounded, all kept the WCOTC in the headlines in recent years.

In November 2002, the WCOTC lost a copyright infringement lawsuit brought against it by the Te-Ta-Ma Truth Foundation, which had successfully trademarked the name "Church of the Creator" years ago. A federal judge ordered the WCOTC to stop using its name, to give up its Web addresses, and to turn over all printed material bearing its name. Hale refused to comply with the order and in January 2003 had arrived for a contempt of court hearing when he was arrested for soliciting the judge's murder.

The Creativity Movement, whose motto is "RaHoWa" (Racial Holy War), proclaims that its belief system, Creativity, "is a racial religion" whose primary goal is the "survival, expansion, and advancement of [the] White Race exclusively." Creators, as members of the group call themselves, do not believe in God, heaven, hell or eternal life.

Race is everything: the white race is "nature's highest creation," "white people are the creators of all worthwhile culture and civilization," "every issue, whether religious, political or racial [should be] viewed through the eyes of the White Man and exclusively from the point of view of the White race as a whole."

PROMINENT SKINHEAD GROUPS

Blood and Honour

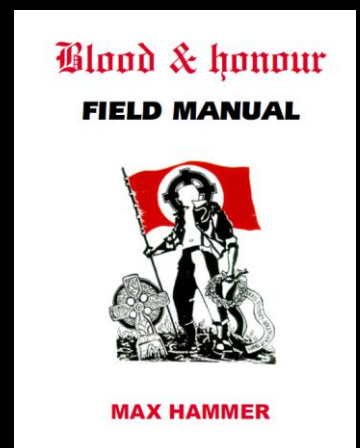

Blood & Honour is a neo-Nazi music promotion network and political group founded in the United Kingdom in 1987. Originally founded by Ian Stuart Donaldson and Nicky Crane, it is composed of white power activists and other white nationalists and has links to Combat 18. The group organizes white power concerts by Rock Against Communism (RAC) bands and distributes a magazine of the same name.

There are official divisions in several different countries around the world. In the United States, two rival groups lay claim to the name. Blood & Honour is banned in several countries. Germany outlawed it in 2000, Spain in 2011, and Russia in 2012.

Blood & Honour took its name from the motto of the Hitler Youth, Blut und Ehre, and a song of the same name by the white power band Skrewdriver. Sometimes the code 28 is used to represent Blood & Honour, derived from the second and eighth letters of the Latin alphabet, B and H. Though different national chapters of Blood & Honour use different nationalist symbols based on their location, common symbolic traits include the usage of a modernized Black letter script, colours of the Nazi German flag, and other Nazi symbolism, including the Totenkopf death's head insignia of the SS-Totenkopfverbände and concentration camp units and triskele.

Hammerskins

The Hammerskin Nation is a leaderless group of men and women who have adopted the White Power Skinhead lifestyle. We are blue collar workers, white collar professionals, college students, entrepreneurs, fathers and mothers.

The Hammerskins brotherhood is a way of achieving goals which we have all set for ourselves. These goals are many but can be summed up with one phrase consisting of 14 words:

"We must secure the existence of our people and a future for White Children."

Vinlanders

The Vinlanders Social Club (VSC), also referred to simply as the Vinlanders, is a hardcore racist skinhead organization based primarily in the Midwestern and Northeastern United States. Headquartered in central Indiana, it has a core membership, but also attracts members of other racist skinhead crews as a kind of umbrella group as well.

Volksfront

Another national neo-Nazi group with a Florida presence is Volksfront, a longstanding racist and anti-Semitic group that originated in Portland, Oregon. It currently maintains close alliances with American Front and White Revolution, a small neo-Nazi group (see relevant sections, below). Volksfront holds hate rock concerts, produces a white power radio show on the Internet, and publishes hate literature through ROA ("Race Over All"), its publication arm. The core leadership of Volksfront has primarily been located in Oregon, but in recent years there has been an "exodus" of sorts, which has helped Volksfront establish itself in other parts of the country.

OTHER PROMINENT HATE GROUPS

Animal Liberation Front

The Animal Liberation Front (ALF) is an international, clandestine leaderless resistance that engages in illegal direct action in pursuit of animal rights. Activists see themselves as a modern-day Underground Railroad, removing animals from laboratories and farms, destroying facilities, arranging safe houses and veterinary care, and operating sanctuaries where the animals subsequently live.

Critics have classified them as terrorists.

Active in over 40 countries, ALF cells operate clandestinely, consisting of small groups of friends and sometimes just one person, which makes the movement difficult for the authorities to monitor. Robin Webb of the British Animal Liberation Press Office has said: "That is why the ALF cannot be smashed, it cannot be effectively infiltrated, it cannot be stopped. You, each and every one of you: you are the ALF."

Group Website: www.animalliberationfront.com

Army of God

Army of God (AOG) is a Christian terrorist anti-abortion organization that sanctions the use of force to combat abortion in the United States.

The earliest documented incidence of the Army of God being involved with anti-abortion activity occurred in 1982. Three men associated with the organization kidnapped Hector Zevallos, an abortion doctor, and his wife, Rosalee Jean, and held them hostage. The hostages were later released unharmed.

The AOG claimed responsibility for Eric Robert Rudolph's 1997 nail bombing of abortion clinics in Atlanta and Birmingham as well as an Atlanta lesbian bar.

The group is also associated with a number of abortion clinic bombings, arsons and murders of abortion providers. Some of these murderers claimed association with the AOG; in other cases, while the killers expressed no affiliation with the group, the AOG has lionized their acts and taken up their cause.

Earth Liberation Front

The Earth Liberation Front (ELF), also known as "Elves" or "The Elves", is the collective name for autonomous individuals or covert cells who, according to the ELF Press Office, use "economic sabotage and guerrilla warfare to stop the exploitation and destruction of the environment".

The ELF was founded in Brighton in the United Kingdom in 1992 and spread to the rest of Europe by 1994. It is now an international movement with actions reported in 17 countries and is widely regarded as descending from Animal Liberation Front because of the relationship and cooperation between the two movements. Using the same leaderless resistance model, as well as similar guidelines to the ALF, sympathizers say that it is an eco-defense group dedicated to taking the profit motive out of environmental destruction by causing economic damage to businesses through the use of property damage.

The ELF was classified as the top "domestic terror" threat in the United States by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in March 2001, and its members were categorized as "eco-terrorists"

Muslim Brotherhood

The Muslim Brotherhood was founded in Ismailia, Egypt by Hassan al-Banna in March 1928 as an Islamist religious, political, and social movement.

The group spread to other Muslim countries but has its largest, or one of its largest, organizations in Egypt, where for many years it has been the largest, best-organized, and most disciplined political opposition force, despite a succession of government crackdowns in 1948, 1954, 1965 after plots, or alleged plots, of assassination and overthrow were uncovered.

Following the 2011 Revolution the group was legalized, and in April 2011 it launched a civic political party called the Freedom and Justice Party (Egypt) to contest elections, including the 2012 presidential election when its candidate Mohamed Morsi became Egypt's first democratically elected president. One year later, however, following massive demonstrations, Morsi was overthrown by the military and arrested.

Since its inception in 1928, the Muslim Brotherhood consistently has championed the cause of global jihad to “mobilize the entire Umma into one body to defend the right cause with all its strength...to jihad, to warfare...”

The Project

There is one more document, called simply “The Project,” that should be examined in the study of the Brotherhood’s expansion into Western society in general, and the U.S. government in particular.

A November 2001 raid by Swiss authorities on a villa belonging to Yousef Nada, the Muslim Brotherhood director of the Al-Taqwa bank (which had been funding al-Qa’eda), recovered this 14-page plan, written in Arabic and dated December 1, 1982, “The Project” presents a “flexible, multi-phased, long-term approach to the ‘cultural invasion’ of the West,” according to Patrick Poole, a counterterrorism and Muslim Brotherhood expert.

Rather than relying primarily on terrorism, as al-Qa’eda and other kinetic-approach jihadis do, the Muslim Brotherhood opted instead for a progressive infiltration of the very structures of Western society in order to achieve the same end result that al-Qa’eda seeks: Islamic domination over the West.

In view of the alarming success this approach has achieved to date, not only across the Middle East and North Africa, but inside Europe and the U.S., it is worthwhile to quote from Poole’s articles just some of the tactics outlined in “The Project:” [emphasis added]

*“Allah is our objective. The Prophet is our leader. The Qur’an is our law. Jihad is our way. Dying in the way of Allah is our highest aspiration.” – Motto of the Muslim Brotherhood

Nation of Islam

The Nation of Islam (NOI) is an Islamic religious movement founded in Detroit, United States, by Wallace D. Fard Muhammad on July 4, 1930. Its stated goals are to improve the spiritual, mental, social, and economic condition of African Americans in the United States and all of humanity.

Critics have labeled the organization as being black supremacist and anti-semitic, and NOI is tracked as a hate group by the Southern Poverty Law Center.

After Fard disappeared in June 1934, the Nation of Islam was led by Elijah Muhammad, who established places of worship (called Temples or Mosques), a school named Muhammad University of Islam, businesses, farms and real estate holdings in the United States and abroad.

There were a number of splits and splinter groups during Elijah Muhammad's leadership, most notably the departure of senior leader Malcolm X to become Sunni Muslim. After Elijah Muhammad's death, his son Warith Deen Mohammed changed the name of the organization to "World Community of Islam in the West" (and twice more after that), and attempted to convert it to a mainstream Sunni Muslim ideology.

In 1977, Louis Farrakhan rejected Warith Deen Mohammed's leadership and re-established the Nation of Islam on the original model. He took over the Nation of Islam's headquarter Temple, Mosque Maryam (Mosque #2), which is located in Chicago, Illinois.

Since its founding in 1930, the Nation of Islam (NOI) has grown into one of the wealthiest and best-known organizations in black America. It's bizarre theology of innate black superiority over whites — a belief system vehemently and consistently rejected by mainstream Muslims — and the deeply racist, anti-Semitic and anti-gay rhetoric of its leaders, including top minister Louis Farrakhan, have earned the NOI a prominent position in the ranks of organized hate.

In Its Own Words

"[T]he Jews don't like Farrakhan, so they call me Hitler. Well, that's a good name. Hitler was a very great man. He wasn't a great man for me as a black person, but he was a great German. Now, I'm not proud of Hitler's evils against Jewish people, but that's a matter of record. He raised Germany up from nothing. Well, in a sense you could say there's a similarity in that we are raising our people up from nothing."

— Louis Farrakhan, radio interview, March 11, 1984

New Black Panther Party

The New Black Panther Party for Self-Defense (NBPP) is a U.S.-based black political organization founded in Dallas, Texas, in 1989. Despite its name, NBPP is not an official successor of the Black Panther Party.

Members of the original Black Panther Party have insisted that the newer party is illegitimate and have firmly declared, "There is no new Black Panther Party".

The NBPP upholds Khalid Abdul Muhammad as the de facto father of the movement. When former Nation of Islam (NOI) minister Khalid Abdul Muhammad became the national chairman of the NBPP from the late 1990s until his death in 2001.

The Anti-Defamation League, the Southern Poverty Law Center, and the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights consider the New Black Panthers to be a hate group.

We Are The New Black Panther Party

Everything in this world has a purpose and the New Black Panther Party is no different. There are critical reasons why we must struggle and fight for FREEDOM. There are many worthy reasons to take up the fight within your local cities, towns and province. No matter the space and time there are a few sad realities that remain the same: 1. Black people remain economic outcasts in this land, where our forefathers/foremothers worked for free labor, to build a country and their descendants are to this hour treated less than human.

Second, A mental liberation leading to a Physical, is still not yet realized as shown in the Black/Afrikan communities regular and fatal outbursts of Post- Traumatic Slave Disorder; Erroneously labeled "niggaz going crazy."

Third, Amerikkka remains the base of Western U.S. Imperialism and the head of the oppressive snake wrapped tightly around the world. As you organize you will learn many more facts, and ills of the Whiteman's world to make you fight against all injustice, these alone will make any warrior stand up and fight the battle that needs to be This is some the terrible truth that gave birth to the New Black Panther Party, and because they are real, still persist, and are a regular hindrance to our rise and resurrection, this organization is needed NOW more than at any point in HISTORY. DECLARATION OF WAR
NOVEMBER 25, 1984
AUTHORED BY ROBERT MATHEWS, FOUNDER OF THE ORDER

It is now a dark and dismal time in the history of our race. All about us lie the green graves of our sires, yet, in a land once ours, we have become a people dispossessed.

By the millions, those not of our blood violate our borders and mock our claim to sovereignty. Yet our people react only with lethargy.

A great sickness has overcome us. Why do our people do nothing? What madness is this? Has the cancer of racial masochism consumed our very will to exist?

While we allow Mexicans by the legions to invade our soil, we murder our babies in equal numbers.

Were the men of the Alamo only a myth? Whether by force of arms or force of the groin, the result of this invasion is the same. Yet our people do not resist.

Our heroes and our culture have been insulted and degraded. The mongrel hordes clamor to sever us from our inheritance. Yet our people do not care.

Throughout this land our children are being coerced into accepting non-whites for their idols, their companions, and worst of all their mates. A course which is taking us straight into oblivion. Yet our people do not see.

Not by accident or design these terrible things have come to pass. It is self-evident to all who have eyes to see that an evil shadow has fallen across our once fair land. Evidence abounds that a certain vile, alien people have taken control of our country.

How is that a parasite has gained domination over its host? Instead of being vigilant, our fathers have slept. What our (sic) we to do? How bleak these aliens have made our children's future.

All about us the land is dying. Our cities swarm with dusky hordes. The water is rancid and the air is rank.

Our farms are being seized by usurious leeches and our people are being forced off the land. The capitalists and communists pick gleefully at our bones while the vile hook-nosed masters of usury orchestrate our destruction. What is to become of our children in a land such as this? Yet still our people sleep!

Every day the rich tighten the chains that lay heavy upon our people. How pitiful the white working class has become. Where is the brave Aryan yeoman so quick to smite the tyrant's hand?

They close the factories, the mills, the mines, and ship our jobs overseas. Yet our people do not awaken.

They send an army of agents into our midst to steal from our pockets and enforce their rule. Our forefathers under King George knew freedom more than we. Yet still, our people sleep!

25.To put the whole program into effect, we demand the creation of a strong central national government for the nation; the unconditional authority of the political central parliament over the entire nation and its organizations; and the formation of committees for the purpose of carrying out the general legislation passed by the nation and the various American States.

The leaders of the movement promise to work ruthlessly-if need be to sacrifice their very lives-to translate this program into action.

NATIONAL SOCIALIST MOVEMENT | VIKING YOUTH

What a Viking Youth Is

A Viking Youth is a young man or woman whose love for their European heritage and Nation drives them to be better members of their families, neighborhoods and Nation. A Viking Youth strives to excel in all aspects of life, in school, in sports, in their community, etc.

A Viking Youth also has a concern for the cleanliness of their neighborhoods, parks, and environment. Cleaning up trash in parks, neighborhoods, roadsides, recycling and removal of graffiti are just a few things Viking Youth Corps units endeavour in.

A Viking Youth learns and embraces their rich European heritage. Learning such things as native languages, genealogy, history, and customs ensure that they do not become lost to our future generations. This is a cornerstone of the Viking Youth Corps.

A Viking Youth is an example to his or her peers. The Corps Oath and Code is part of the Viking Youth's life, all that he or she does, or does not do is based on the Oath and Code.

A Viking Youth is, above all, the future of our ancient heritage. The link between our past and our future and the ones who carry on where their ancestors left off.

- Must be the child of the N.S.M. or other pro-white organization, or have written, signed and notarized letter of consent from parents.

N.S.M. regulations state that no person under the age of 18 can join or be active in the name of the Party. The Party does, however, know the value of our youth as the future of our race as well as the Party.

The V.Y.C. is an organization that teaches young men and women the skills and abilities needed not only to become future officers in the N.S.M. but to instill honor, discipline, sound morals and loyalty needed to survive in today's corrupted society.

Some of the things the V.Y.C. offers today's youth.

- Physical fitness.
- Military skills.
- Camaraderie free of gang style elements.
- Help with skills that establish self reliance.

What the V.Y.C. offers for youth who desire to become officers in the N.S.M.

WHITE SUPREMACIST TATTOOS: EXERCISE

What symbols do you see here?

However, for the focus of this story and this e-book, we will focus in on his tattoos and the meaning behind on in particular. Inmate Hate had numerous tattoos but there were two that stood out to me (1) being the twin lightning bolts or the SS symbol and (2) being the Klansman tattoo.

The twin lightning bolts were significant because of their meaning but also because he had them subtly hidden within a series of other tattoos making them difficult for those who are ignorant to their meaning and/or another inmate or officer at first glance.

The Klansman was significant because of its meaning showing his true commitment to the white supremacy ideology by going beyond the traditional Aryan prison gang mentality while incarcerated to now living this idea of white supremacy during those times of freedom when not in prison by way of the Ku Klux Klan.

Lastly, the placement of this Klansman tattoo was even more significant and the purpose of this placement was both frightening and eye opening to just how serious he was in the idea of cleansing this world of the non-Aryan race.

The Klansman tattoo was placed inside the inner right bicep.

When asked what the purpose of this placement was, he very truthfully and proudly gave these two reasons; the second of which was not expected and completely revealing into the level of his hatred:

1. Concealment: If I have my shirt off on the rec yard or anywhere in public, I can simply keep my arm down to my side and it almost completely conceals the tattoo from whoever I do not want to see it.

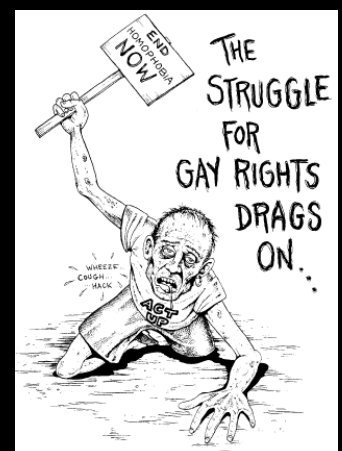

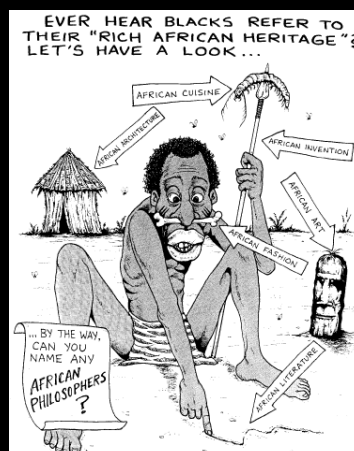

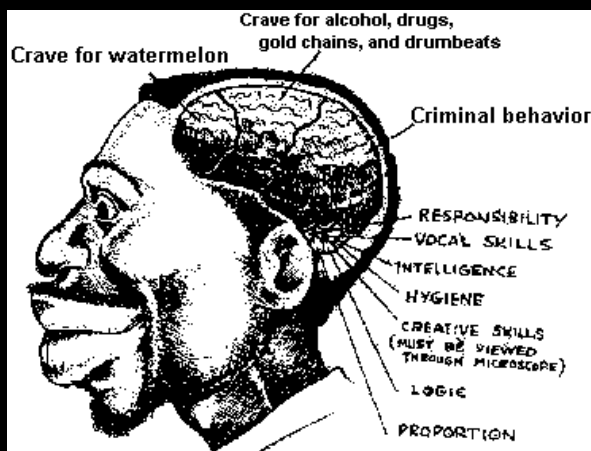

2. He stated that he was right handed and the Klansman was placed under his right bicep specifically for the purpose of it literally being the last thing that the black man (except he used another word) would see when he raised his arm just before my shank entered his skull. In other words, he wanted the guy to be looking at the Klansman as he was dying.

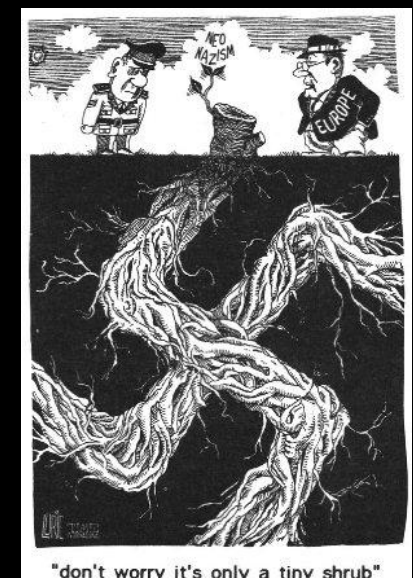

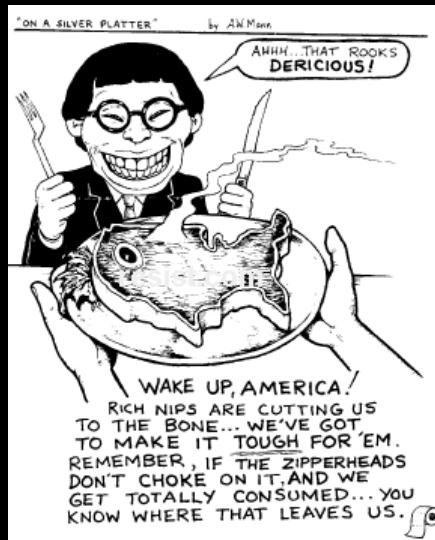

Now if that doesn't express his deep hatred for the non-Aryan race then I don't know what does. I tell this story for two reasons;

(1) to hopefully bring some points to light about the importance of a detailed interview with your potential gang member/hate group member so that you get the deepest answers to the most vital of question to better prepare for the decision making process of how to best manage/monitor this person moving forward based on their potential level of threat and

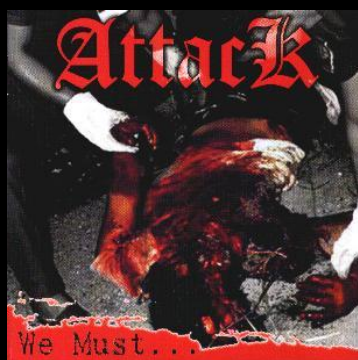

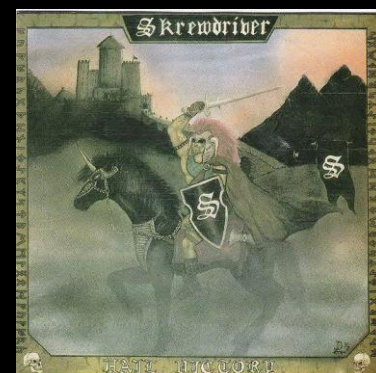

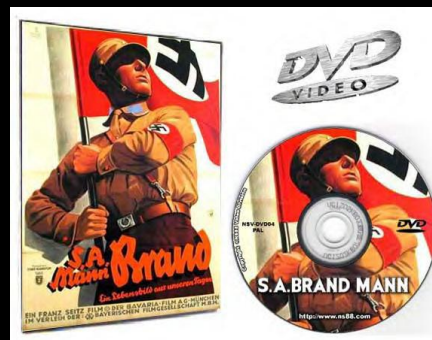

(2) to shine some light on just how real the threat is in this ideological war based on a perceived race superiority idea where the only acceptable outcome can be no less than extinction of the non-Aryan race(s).
